Five states are listed in the first section. Label them on the map using the three-letter abbreviation. There are also five numbered states on the map; name them (with correct spelling) in the spaces provided. Is there a state in both sections? That means the spelling should be easy.

According to the BBC last night, the 3,500-strong EU contingent will aim to protect refugees from Darfur and people displaced by internal fighting in the Sudan, Chad, and a third state. For an extra point, identify this third state on the map and name it here:
