

The Constitution of the United States

September 17, 1789

Preamble:

We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Article I

Section 1

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2

The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each state shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

1 Section 3

2 The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, chosen by the
3 legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

4 Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be
5 divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be
6 vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth
7 year, and the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one third may be chosen every 8 second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the 9 legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next 10 meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

11 No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine
12 years a citizen of the United States and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state
13 for which he shall be chosen.

14 The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote,
15 unless they be equally divided.

16 The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of 17 the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

18 The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they 19 shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice
20 shall preside: And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the 21 members present.

22 Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and 23 disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States: but 24 the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and 25 punishment, according to law.

26 Section 4

27 The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be 28 prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make 29 or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

30 The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first
31 Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

32 Section 5

33 Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and 34 a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn
35 from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such 36 manner, and under such penalties as each House may provide.

1 Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly
2 behavior, and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member.

3 Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same,
4 excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the 5 members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one fifth of those present, be 6 entered on the journal.

7 Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for 8 more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

9 Section 6

10 The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be 11 ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases,
12 except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance
13 at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any 14 speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

15 No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any 16 civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the 17 emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time: and no person holding any 18 office under the United States, shall be a member of either House during his continuance in 19 office.

20 Section 7

21 All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may 22 propose or concur with amendments as on other Bills.

23 Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it
24 become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it,
25 but if not he shall return it, with his objections to that House in which it shall have originated,
26 who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such 27 reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with 28 the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by 29 two thirds of that House, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both Houses
30 shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill
31 shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the 32 President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same
33 shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment
34 prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

35 Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of 36 Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the 37 President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or

1 being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of
2 Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

3 Section 8

4 The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the 5 debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all
6 duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

- 7 • To borrow money on the credit of the United States;
- 8 • To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian 9 tribes;
- 10 • To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies
11 throughout the United States;
- 12 • To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of 13 weights and measures;
- 14 • To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United 15 States;
- 16 • To establish post offices and post roads;
- 17 • To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors 18 and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;
- 19 • To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;
- 20 • To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against 21 the law of nations;
- 22 • To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on 23 land and water;
- 24 • To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer 25 term than two years;
- 26 • To provide and maintain a navy;
- 27 • To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;
- 28 • To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress 29 insurrections and repel invasions;
- 30 • To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the militia, and for governing such part
31 of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states
32 respectively, the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia
33 according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;
- 34 • To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding 35 ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states, and the acceptance of Congress,
36 become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all 37 places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for 38 the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings;—And

- To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

Section 9

The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

- The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.
- No bill of attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.
- No capitation, or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration herein before directed to be taken.
- No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.
- No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another: nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one state, be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.
- No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.
- No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States: and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

Section 10

No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws: and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any state on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops, or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

Article II

Section 1

The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same term, be elected, as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each state having one vote; A quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice President.

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty five years, and been fourteen Years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

1 The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services, a compensation, which shall neither
2 be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall
3 not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

4 Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:—
5 “I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United 6 States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the 7 United States.”

8 Section 2

9 The President shall be commander in chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the 10 militia of the several states, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may 11 require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon 12 any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant
13 reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

14 He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided
15 two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and 16 consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of 17 the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein
18 otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law: but the Congress may by law vest
19 the appointment of such inferior officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts
20 of law, or in the heads of departments.

21 The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the 22 Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

23 Section 3

24 He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the union, and 25 recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he 26 may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of 27 disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to 28 such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he 29 shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the 30 United States.

31 Section 4

32 The President, Vice President and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from 33 office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and 34 misdemeanors.

35 Article III

36 Section 1

1 The judicial power of the United States, shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such 2 inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of 3 the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behaviour, and shall, at stated 4 times, receive for their services, a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their 5 continuance in office.

6 Section 2

7 The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the 8 laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority;—to 9 all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls;—to all cases of admiralty and 10 maritime jurisdiction;—to controversies to which the United States shall be a party;—to 11 controversies between two or more states;—between a state and citizens of another state;—
12 between citizens of different states;—between citizens of the same state claiming lands under 13 grants of different states, and between a state, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens
14 or subjects.

15 In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state
16 shall be party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before
17 mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such 18 exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

19 The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be 20 held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within 21 any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

22 Section 3

23 Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering
24 to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on 25 the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

26 The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason
27 shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted.

28 Article IV

29 Section 1

30 Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial 31 proceedings of every other state. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in 32 which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

33 Section 2

34 The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the 35 several states.

1 A person charged in any state with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice,
2 and be found in another state, shall on demand of the executive authority of the state from which
3 he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

4 No person held to service or labor in one state, under the laws thereof, escaping into another,
5 shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor,
6 but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

7 Section 3

8 New states may be admitted by the Congress into this union; but no new states shall be formed or 9 erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any state be formed by the junction of two or 10 more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned as 11 well as of the Congress.

12 The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations
13 respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this 14 Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any 15 particular state.

16 Section 4

17 The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a republican form of government, 18 and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the 19 executive (when the legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence.

20 Article V

21 The Congress, whenever two thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose
22 amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two thirds of the 23 several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be 24 valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of 25 three fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the 26 other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which 27 may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect 28 the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its 29 consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

30 Article VI

31 All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall 32 be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

33 This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof;
34 and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be

1 the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the 2 Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

3 The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state
4 legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several
5 states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious test
6 shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

7 Article VII

8 The ratification of the conventions of nine states, shall be sufficient for the establishment of this
9 Constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

10

30 Constitutional Amendments 1-10: The Bill of Rights

31 Note: The following text is a transcription of the first 10 amendments to the Constitution in their 32 original form. These amendments were ratified December 15, 1791, and form what is known as 33 the “Bill of Rights.”

1 Amendment I

2 Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free
3 exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people
4 peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

5 Amendment II

6 A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to 7 keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

8 Amendment III

9 No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner,
10 nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

11 Amendment IV

12 The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against 13 unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon 14 probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be 15 searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

16 Amendment V

17 No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a
18 presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or 19 in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be 20 subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in 21 any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, 22 without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just 23 compensation.

24 Amendment VI

25 In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an 26 impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which 27 district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause
28 of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process
29 for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

1 Amendment VII

2 In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of 3 trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise reexamined in any
4 Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

5 Amendment VIII

6 Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual
7 punishments inflicted.

8 Amendment IX

9 The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage
10 others retained by the people.

11 Amendment X

12 The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the 13 States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

14 Amendment XI

15 Passed by Congress March 4, 1794. Ratified February 7, 1795.

16 Note: Article III, section 2, of the Constitution was modified by amendment 11.

17 The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or 18 equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or 19 by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

20 Amendment XII

21 Passed by Congress December 9, 1803. Ratified June 15, 1804.

22 Note: A portion of Article II, section 1 of the Constitution was superseded by the 12th
23 amendment.

24 The Electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice-
25 President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they
26 shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person
27 voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President,
28 and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists
29 they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States,
30 directed to the President of the Senate; — the President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the 31 Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;

1 — The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such
2 number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such 3 majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of 4 those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot,
5 the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation
6 from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members
7 from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. [And 8 if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall 9 devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall 10 act as President, as in case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. —]* The 11 person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such 12 number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a 13 majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-
14 President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators,
15 and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally
16 ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

17 *Superseded by section 3 of the 20th amendment.

18 Amendment XIII

19 Passed by Congress January 31, 1865. Ratified December 6, 1865.

20 Note: A portion of Article IV, section 2, of the Constitution was superseded by the 13th
21 amendment.

22 Section 1

23 Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party
24 shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their 25 jurisdiction.

26 Section 2

27 Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

28 Amendment XIV

29 Passed by Congress June 13, 1866. Ratified July 9, 1868.

30 Note: Article I, section 2, of the Constitution was modified by section 2 of the 14th amendment.

31 Section 1

32 All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are 33 citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce 34 any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2

Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age,* and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3

No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Section 4

The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5

The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

*Changed by section 1 of the 26th amendment.

Amendment XV

Passed by Congress February 26, 1869. Ratified February 3, 1870.

Section 1

1 The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United
2 States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude—

3 Section 2

4 The Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

5 Amendment XVI

6 Passed by Congress July 2, 1909. Ratified February 3, 1913.

7 Note: Article I, section 9, of the Constitution was modified by amendment 16.

8 The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source
9 derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or 10 enumeration.

11 Amendment XVII

12 Passed by Congress May 13, 1912. Ratified April 8, 1913.

13 Note: Article I, section 3, of the Constitution was modified by the 17th amendment.

14 The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by 15 the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State
16 shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State
17 legislatures.

18 When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of 19 such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any 20 State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill 21 the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

22 This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen
23 before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

24 Amendment XVIII

25 Passed by Congress December 18, 1917. Ratified January 16, 1919. Repealed by amendment 21.

26 Section 1

27 After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of 28 intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the 29 United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby 30 prohibited.

31 Section 2

1 The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by
2 appropriate legislation.

3 Section 3

4 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the 5 Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven
6 years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

7 Amendment XIX

8 Passed by Congress June 4, 1919. Ratified August 18, 1920.

9 The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United
10 States or by any State on account of sex.

11 Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

12 Amendment XX

13 Passed by Congress March 2, 1932. Ratified January 23, 1933.

14 Note: Article I, section 4, of the Constitution was modified by section 2 of this amendment. In 15 addition, a portion of the 12th amendment was superseded by section 3.

16 Section 1

17 The terms of the President and the Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January,
18 and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in 19 which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their 20 successors shall then begin.

21 Section 2

22 The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on 23 the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

24 Section 3

25 If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have 26 died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen
27 before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to 28 qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified;
29 and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice 30 President shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which 31 one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice 32 President shall have qualified.

1 Section 4

2 The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the 3 House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have
4 devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate
5 may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

6 Section 5

7 Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this 8 article.

9 Section 6

10 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the
11 Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the 12 date of its submission.

13 Amendment XXI

14 Passed by Congress February 20, 1933. Ratified December 5, 1933.

15 Section 1

16 The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

17 Section 2

18 The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or Possession of the United States for 19 delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby 20 prohibited.

21 Section 3

22 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the
23 Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven
24 years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

25 Amendment XXII

26 Passed by Congress March 21, 1947. Ratified February 27, 1951.

27 Section 1

28 No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has 29 held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which 30 some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of President more than 31 once. But this Article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this 32 Article was proposed by Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the

1 office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this Article becomes
2 operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such 3 term.

4 Section 2

5 This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the
6 Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the
7 date of its submission to the States by the Congress.

8 Amendment XXIII

9 Passed by Congress June 16, 1960. Ratified March 29, 1961.

10 Section 1

11 The District constituting the seat of Government of the United States shall appoint in such 12 manner as Congress may direct:

13 A number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and
14 Representatives in Congress to which the District would be entitled if it were a State, but in no
15 event more than the least populous State; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the 16 States, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of President and Vice 17 President, to be electors appointed by a State; and they shall meet in the District and perform such 18 duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

19 Section 2

20 The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

21 Amendment XXIV

22 Passed by Congress August 27, 1962. Ratified January 23, 1964.

23 Section 1

24 The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for President or 25 Vice President, for electors for President or Vice President, or for Senator or Representative in 26 Congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State by reason of failure to 27 pay poll tax or other tax.

28 Section 2

29 The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

30 Amendment XXV

31 Passed by Congress July 6, 1965. Ratified February 10, 1967.

1 Note: Article II, section 1, of the Constitution was affected by the 25th amendment.

2 Section 1

3 In case of the removal of the President from office or of his death or resignation, the Vice 4 President shall become President.

5 Section 2

6 Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the Vice President, the President shall nominate a
7 Vice President who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both Houses of 8 Congress.

9 Section 3

10 Whenever the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of 11 the House of Representatives his written declaration that he is unable to discharge the powers and 12 duties of his office, and until he transmits to them a written declaration to the contrary, such 13 powers and duties shall be discharged by the Vice President as Acting President.

14 Section 4

15 Whenever the Vice President and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive
16 departments or of such other body as Congress may by law provide, transmit to the President pro
17 tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives their written declaration
18 that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President
19 shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as Acting President.

20 Thereafter, when the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the 21 Speaker of the House of Representatives his written declaration that no inability exists, he shall 22 resume the powers and duties of his office unless the Vice President and a majority of either the 23 principal officers of the executive department or of such other body as Congress may by law
24 provide, transmit within four days to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of 25 the House of Representatives their written declaration that the President is unable to discharge the 26 powers and duties of his office. Thereupon Congress shall decide the issue, assembling within 27 forty-eight hours for that purpose if not in session. If the Congress, within twenty-one days after 28 receipt of the latter written declaration, or, if Congress is not in session, within twenty-one days
29 after Congress is required to assemble, determines by two-thirds vote of both Houses that the 30 President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President shall 31 continue to discharge the same as Acting President; otherwise, the President shall resume the 32 powers and duties of his office.

33 Amendment XXVI

34 Passed by Congress March 23, 1971. Ratified July 1, 1971.

35 Note: Amendment 14, section 2, of the Constitution was modified by section 1 of the 26th
36 amendment.

1 Section 1

2 The right of citizens of the United States, who are eighteen years of age or older, to vote shall not
3 be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of age.

4 Section 2

5 The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

6 Amendment XXVII

7 Originally proposed September 25, 1789. Ratified May 7, 1992.

8 No law, varying the compensation for the services of the Senators and Representatives, shall take 9 effect, until an election of representatives shall have intervened.
